Hong Kong ( October 2017 ) – Gallery Michael Andrew Law is honored to present Michael Andrew Law : New Flower Paintings.

Inspired by the beauty of the most enduring symbol of love and beauty in any culture - Flowers and especially - Red Roses , the artist uses these symbol to engages life's grand themes—sexuality, obsession, suffering, redemption, death, and belief .

As a founder of art movement Hyper Pop Surrealism, in these paintings, the artist continues to use Computer Generated Imagery incorporated with Traditional Hand-painted technique , merging the idea of Graphic Design and Painterly Gesture - hand-applied ink, oil paint, gesso, enamel and resin. By digitally manipulating images of Vector Design and Calligraphy , Michael Andrew Law forges gestural streaks by inserting and compositing images of Flowers, figures and text. The paint are splattered, dripped, washed or carefully painted over the digital images after the Giclée were made in the studio .

Michael Andrew Law (born in British Hong Kong, 1982) creates what renowned art dealer Douwe Cramer calls, “Hyper Pop Surrealist paintings.” Law studied painting with Sam Tsang of the Central Academy of Art in Beijing and with New York native classical painter Dan Anderson at his Hong Kong studio.
